

To whom it may concern:

I would like to express my support of the Indiana Telephone Privacy Law. This law has proven to be a positive force in the reduction of unwanted and unnecessary telephone solicitations. While I appreciate the need for a business to market, I do not appreciate the intrusion into my household. I as an individual have a right to privacy. The Consumer Bankers Association member companies have a right to market. There is no protection against them marketing via mailings, advertisement via various media forms, etc. These I may address in a manner that is convenient to me and does not force me to invest my time and expense to reduce their marketing costs. There is a cost to doing business and that should not be born by myself or my family. Therefore, I strongly oppose any lessening of the telephone privacy law and urge you to do the same.

Robert W. Holden, II, Ph.D., P.E.